About Us

EXCITE Committee is a recognized non-profit student organization at the University of Toronto. EXCITE thrives to foster personal and career development for all students and young professionals through inviting influential speakers to share their insights with us. The audience's horizons are broadened by the infinite possibilities.

Our Mission

We firmly believe that “the best way to learn is to learn from the best.” Therefore, by inviting impactful figures from various fields to share their visions and foresights possessed at our age, more students would be inspired and more prepared for the future.
